This conference is presented at no cost to employees of California cities, counties, special districts and Associate Members, who are JPAs, vendors and service providers to local government. The conference provides an excellent opportunity for networking and discussion of issues related to street lights and traffic signals. Attendance is limited, and registration is on a first come, first served basis. The detailed agenda will be provided to registrants. The topics to be discussed include:

- How will rate and tariff changes affect your jurisdiction? Learn more with CALSLA's detailed updates on rate cases with Pacific Gas & Electric (PG&E), Southern California Edison (SCE) and San Diego Gas & Electric (SDG&E), including legal updates on liability and acquisition issues.
- Why adaptively control street lights? Hear presentations regarding the impact of adaptive control devices, small cell attachments, proposed Time of Use (TOU) tariffs and the impact on services, costs and Smart City outcomes.
- What can you do with an adaptively controlled street light? Participate in Roundtables/Workshops – what you need/want to know about what adaptively controlled street light infrastructure can do for your jurisdiction and your operations.
- What's going on Statewide that could affect your lighting infrastructure? Hear about training opportunities, legislation, financing, and the challenges and opportunities in working with the investor owned utilities (IOUs).
- What If and What Next? Learn about advancements in street light technology and innovation.
